"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately-flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

While working in a pit on the other side f Feather river, just above Hamilton erry, says the Hamilton Policy, some Chinese miners this week exhumed a number of skeletons. About twenty-five in all have been taken out, but the indications are that there are hundreds still remaining. The Chinese are such superstitions people that they have abandoned the laim, although it was paying them handomely. Of the skeletons taken out, only a few are in a perfect state of preservation. A large number crumbled to pieces on being exposed to the air. The mass of bones dicates that persons of various ages and izes have been buried in the place. Judging from the entire extinction of sutures n the skulls and the worn condition of the teeth, it is concluded that many of the perons deposited there were very aged at the ime of death. It is a remarkable fact rhat everal skeletons are deposited in the ame grave, one above another, the lower nes being some 15 or 20 feet below the eads down, others in a standing posture. One skeleton was taken out that ast the rainfall was 3.78 inches. On the ad a large shell placed carefully over the kull, like a cap or crown. This is suposed to be the remains of a noted person -perhaps a King. The shell is unlike in shape and composition to any known at the present day. This relic has been sent to the Academy of Sciences at San Francisco It is a rare specimen. A number of relic have been found in the way of beads, pipes and other articles. The greatest curiosity that has been found consists of a very fine piece of polished shell, the shape of the ole of the foot, perforated with carefully drilled holes. Three specimens of this character have been found, two of which are engraved, one having engravings for ornament, and the other contains hierofound to-day 300 yards from the scene of the accident. ### IN OR OUT OF TASTE

The polished Chesterfield aptly said: "A well-dressed person is a continual letter of introduction." The literature of Clothing is rich in similar allusions by poets, statesmen and courtiers, who in all ages have delighted to pay honor to the cause of careful dressing.

The point is well taken. It costs no more to dress in taste than out of taste. Buy where goods are brightest and freshest. Buy where all selections are marked by good taste. Buy where the aim is to see Low much and not how little can be given for your dollar.

GOODS BY MAIL.

Every day people living out of town are learning more and more to get their things of dress and personal need of the city merchants. It is they who have the greatest variety of goods, the freshest styles and the lowest prices—the three things necessary to the most successful buying. By means of SAMPLES and ILLUS-TRATED PRICE BOOKS, and by aid of experience and skill in filling orders, we are able to place the advantages offered our city trade equally within reach of country customers. As to cost of sending goods to and fro, we might add that charges have been so reduced of late that they hardly figure in the handsome saving usually gained. Have you doubts as to the merits of this system of trade? Try it.

WHEAT—In shipping circles movement is more or less retarded by the prevailing rain. Prices are steady, though not buoyant. Many operators fear that any improvement abroad will inure more to the advantage of freights than grain, and on this theory they do not believe that values will show any marked advance in the near future. Still, there are many contingencies that may change the outlook and turn the situation favorably for the farming interest. No. 1 grades are quotable at $1.25%@1.25 @ ctl. CANCER FOR 14 YEARS.

**SPARTANBURG (S. C.), March 14, 1884.

I have for 14 years been a sufferer from a running sore on my face, that everybody called a CANCER. I have used over $300 worth of medicine, and found no relief. About four months ago, I bought one bottle of Swift's Specific from Dr. H. E. Heintish, and since have bought five others; have taken it, and they have CLEED ME sound and well. My face is as free from a sore is anybody's, and my health is perfectly restored. I feel like forty years had been lifted off my head. Yours thankfully, ELIZA TINSLEY.

Tell me, my little golden-head,

THE CHRISTMAS STOCKING.

Long years ago this Christmas time, My little one—my all to me— Sat robed in white upon my knee, And heard the merry Christmas chime. If —— should come to-night, What shall he leave my baby bright, What treasure for my boy?" I said.

And then he named the little toy,
While in his round and mournful eyes
There came a look of glad sarprise
That spoke his trustful, quiet joy. ACYAL FOUND And as he lisped his evening prayer, He asked the boon with childish grace And toddled to the chimney-place And hung his little stocking there. That night, as length'ning shadows crept, I saw the white-winged angels come With heavenly music to our home, And kiss my darling as he slept. They must have heard his baby prayer, For in the morn with anxious face He toddled to the chimney place,

And found the little treasure there. They came again on Christmas tide-The angel host so fair and white, And, singing all the Christmas night, They lured my darling from my side.

A little sock—a little toy—
A lock of golden hair—
The Christmas music on the air—
A watch for my baby-boy. And if again that angel train
And golden-head come back for me,
To bear me to eternity,
My watching will not be in vain.
